Plaintiff, United States Trustee (“UST”), requests an Order dismissing the UST’s Adversary Proceeding against the Debtor/Defendant, Benjamin Adam Floyd (“Floyd”) under FED. R. BANKR. P. 7041. In support of this motion, the UST states:

A. Facts.

1. The Complaint [Adv. Doc. 1] (the “Complaint”) objecting to Floyd’s discharge under 11 U.S.C. §727(a) was filed July 22, 2023.

2. On September 15, 2023, this Court entered an Order approving Floyd’s waiver of discharge under 11 U.S.C. §727(a)(10) in his underlying bankruptcy case (the “Order”). [Bankr. Doc. 59]. The time to appeal that Order expires September 29, 2023.

3. The Complaint is moot now that Floyd’s waiver has been approved by this Court; consequently, this Adversary Proceeding should be dismissed upon the expiration of the time to appeal the Order, on the condition that no appeal is made.

4. FED. R. BANKR. P. 41, which adopts FED. R. CIV. P. 41, provides that a “complaint objecting to the debtor’s discharge shall not be dismissed at the plaintiff’s instance without notice to the trustee, the United States trustee, and such other persons as the court may direct, and only on order of the court containing terms and conditions which the court deems proper.”

5. The UST will give notice of this Motion to all parties in interest set forth on the mailing matrix for Floyd’s bankruptcy estate. The UST contends there are no terms or conditions necessary for dismissal of the Complaint given Floyd’s waiver of discharge.

6. The chapter 7 trustee, John Mashburn, is aware of this dismissal request and the UST has permission to represent that he has no objection to dismissal of this adversary proceeding.

7. The UST reserves the right to withdraw this Motion if the Order does not become a final, non-appealable Order.

B. Requested relief.

8. Considering the above, and subject to the Order becoming a final, non-appealable Order, the UST requests that this Court enter an Order dismissing the UST's Complaint objecting to Floyd's discharge; and for such other and further relief as the Court finds just, equitable and proper.

Respectfully submitted,
